

INTERIOR DESIGN[®]

SPRING
2015

having a ball

spring market

Pierre Paulin
by Gubi

product T300 chair; T877 table recap The 1960s seating sensation makes a comeback, its folded form now molded of an engineered polymer incorporating industrial plastic waste—the same material used for the corresponding table. gubi.com

Arne Jacobsen
by Fritz Hansen

product 7.14 AM Series 7 recap The maker celebrates the chair's 70th with a palette of five pearly limited-edition colors that mirror the spectrum of light seen in Scandinavia's long autumn sunsets—down to the iridescent zinc-chrome leg finish that evokes a seashell's interior. fritzhanzen.com

Niels Diffrient
by Humanscale

product Diffrient Lounge
recap The company's first-ever lounge mimics the silhouette of the renowned task chair, offering a fully articulating back and headrest, integrated work surface, and a range of postures suitable for everything from working to streaming. humanscale.com

Gio Ponti
by Polltrona Frau

product Dezza Limited Edition recap The squared-off 1965 lounge chair is released in sustainable Pelle Frau Impact Less leather upholstery that's printed (in blue ink) with a previously unpublished Ponti drawing of 26 fanciful hands—one of his favorite motifs. polltronafrau.com

retro redux

Old faves are back in the limelight—with a twist seating